COACH DOBSON LEAVES; STUDENTS LIKE HIM

On Monday, May 12, about forty Clemson Tigers comprising members of the football, basket-ball and base-ball squads of the past three years at Clemson, went to Calhoun to bid Clemson's popular all-round coach, Frank M. Dobson, farewell, and wish him great success in his future work. It was with regret that each man said "good-bye" to coach as he shook each hand at the approach of the 12 20. train, which was to bear him away. He was liked by the entire corps and loved by every man who has worked under him. So well was he loved that his team often accomplished the seemingly impossible and would fight a circular saw or tackle a railroad engine, if he said do it.

It is doubtful if Clemson has ever had, or ever will have, an all around coach who is so thoroughly competent in all branches of athletics. His football teams, tho outweighed and working under great odds as to experience and opportunities for practice, have fought gamely and played wonderful ball. Basketball became a major sport at Clemson under his masterly coaching, and the team developed has made a record of which any institution might well be proud. We sincerely hope that future years will see basketball as well coached, and equally as successful as in the past two seasons. Never before has Clemson's baseball team shown so thorough a knowledge of inside baseball as have the teams under Coach Dobson. His ability to develop new material is only excelled by his great knowledge of the game and the strategy displayed during games from his position on the bench. Baseball such as is seldom shown by a college team, characterized Dobson's time. A State record of 1000 per cent. and an S. I. A. A. record nearly as good made by a team built around four old players clearly demonstrates his ability.

Just how much Coach was loved by the student body is clearly shown in the following incident which marked his last appearance before the entire student body. It was after the Newberry game and we had won the State championship with 1000 per cent. The corps, after celebrating the victory by a parade on the athletic field, assembled in front of barracks, yelling for Coach Dobson to make a speech. This he did, in a few words, which showed that the ties of three years could not be lightly broken, and left the circle of seven hundred students with tears in his eyes and a heart too full for further utterance.

ALL-TIME, ALL-CLEMSON BASEBALL TEAM

This team is composed of well known stars, most of whom have not followed the game professionally, though several have won fame in the national pastime since leaving college.

It would be a treat to see such a team in action, batting average for the entire team being near 350 per cent. This selection is based on the proficiency attained while in college, and only those who have completed their baseball career at Clemson are considered. However, there are two men of the "13" team that are worthy of consideration. Catcher Shaw, of the famous McMakin-Shaw battery, and John Maxwell, in general ability loom above the contenders for this position.

Tight Bissell as a receiver has never had a superior here though his hitting was very poor.

Yeargin possessed many good qualities, his hitting being especially good, but his lack of experience would exclude him from this class.

Maxwell's speed on the bases would give him the advantage over Shaw, though both are hard hitters and generals of marked ability.

Selecting pitchers from such material as McMakin, the Sitton brothers, Dendy, Farmer, Robertson, Rivers and Ezell is no easy task.

Both McMakin and V. Sitton pitched phenomenal ball in college and were drafted by major leagues. Dendy was an unusually good college pitcher, being of the side arm variety, but he didn't have the constitution for the hardest work.

Rivers, one of the headiest and steadiest pitchers Clemson ever produced, injured his arm during his second year, thereby ruining a brilliant career.

Ezell has the distinction of having the only no hit game to his credit, though Vedder Sitton pitched a one-hit game against Carolina College in 1902.

Considering the speed, curves, capacity for work, and hitting ability, the selection would be McMakin, V. Sitton and Ezell, the latter having just finished his college career and is drafted by Pittsburg.

Thomas is easily the best fielding first baseman ever developed here, though his base running and hitting were poor.

Gill Ellison, though not up to the standard in base running, was a hard hitter, a fast fielder and would be the choice for this position.

The choice at second would be between Hunter, Caldwell, Robertson and Kirby, all of whom are fast college players, and good hitters. Caldwell is the best pinch hitter ever seen here, but his fielding was erratic. Kirby lacked speed on the bases.

Robertson having had most experience would make the best man for this position.

Jack Goggans would fill the shortstop position with credit, being a well balanced and seasoned player, though he would have close competition with Dingle, Rogers and Goodman.

La Far Bissell, Pearman and McCown show up strong at third, all three have strong accurate arms, are good hitters and fast on the bases.

In fielding bunts and in getting the ball away from him in difficult positions Bissell had a decided advantage and would be given the position.

An outfield composed of Holland in left, Ray Barksdale in centre and Cochran in right, would, I venture to say, make the hardest hitting trio that has been produced by any Southern team. Each hitting around 400 during his college career. The best any of them could do was, 469 which average was made by Cochran in 1910.

In Bamberg, Chrisolm, Ellis, Lee, Connelly and Heirs there is some excellent outfield material, though the trio first mentioned are sure fielders and their hitting would be the deciding factor in their behalf.

MEETING OF JUNIOR CLASS.

On May 13, the Palmetto Literary Society Hall was the scene of a meeting of the Junior Class.

The class ring proposition was discussed. It was decided to get a better ring than the present one. A large part of the class is in favor of changing the ring from one with a set to a solid gold. A committee of five men was appointed to look into the matter and secure designs. This committee is composed of Messrs. Douthit, chairman; Thornhill, McDonald, Otzel and McBride.

The honor system was the next thing on the program. For several years the honor system has been on the decline. After several talks by different members of the class the system was unanimously readopted.

"TANNY" WEBB CAPTAIN NEXT YEAR'S BASEBALL TEAM.

A few days following the close of the past baseball season, the members of the varsity squad assembled for the purpose of electing a captain for next year's team. Practically everyone seemed to be in favor of the big first baseman as the most competent man for the job, and we heartily endorse the selection. "Tanny's" excellent qualities as an athlete of high standing have been demonstrated on the gridiron as well as on the diamond, while his moral tone is worthy of the highest commendation. With nearly the entire team back again next year captained by Tanny, we feel that the Tigers will have somebody off the perch in the S. I. A. A. race of 1914.

THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION HOLDS MEETING.

Last Friday night in chapel, the Athletic Association held its annual meeting. A large crowd was out and much important business was transacted. The constitution of the association was amended in several places. Among the most important changes were the appointment of an alumnus on the athletic council, the awarding of a C. A. C. to scrub players, and class numerals to players on class teams. The royal purple sweater and gold C. was adopted as the insignia of the C. men. It was also decided to hold two meetings of the association hereafter—one in December for the election of the football management and one in May for the election of all other officers.

The election of officers was then taken up as follows:

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY'S LAST MEETING

On Tuesday night, the 20th, the Agricultural Society held its last meeting for this year.

The senior members made very interesting talks on the following subjects:

Thorns and Roses by F. H. Lathrop.

Nuts by D. L. Cannon.

Hints and Helps by W. S. McLeod.

The officers for next year were then installed; and the meeting was turned over to the Junior members, who then gave short talks on the following subjects:

Fair Fancies by H. L. Parker.

Yabbo Run 'em, by T. C. Haddon.

Assets and Assistance, by J. E. Dunlap.

The Member, by A. H. Ward.

Explosives, by J. N. McBride.

After the exercises, refreshments were served; and on the whole, the meeting was very enjoyable.

REFRIGERATING PLANT RAPIDLY PROGRESSING

The excavations for Clemson's new refrigerating plant are completed, and the walls are rapidly rising above the ground. The first shipment of machinery arrived last week and the rest will be in shortly. The cadets are watching the growth of this structure with interest, as it will mean that ice cream will be added to the long list of delicacies already served by "Shorty."

EDITORIALS

Well its not so long as it has been.

Full advantage should be taken of these last few days, because they may mean a finished or unfinished college education for some of us. We won't care to come back if we fail, and just lots of us are on the narrow margin when indifferent attention to our text books may mean failure on the coming exams, and as a result; failure to make our classes. Let's get a hustle on; make our classes, and come back intent upon backing Clemson to the last ditch in every branch in which she is interested.

It is with a great deal of repudiation that the Tiger staff of '13 and '14, puts forth its first issue. We realize to what high standard "The Tiger" has been brought by the staff of '12 and '13, and know that it is going to be hard for us to fill the positions left vacant by these capable men. We can hardly hope to make any improvement upon "The Tiger" edited by this year's staff, and feel sure that the student body and other subscribers will feel that we have done extra well if our editors are as interesting as those of this year have been.

We understand "The Tiger" to be essentially an athletic paper and intend to keep it so. It is our intention, besides having Clemson Athletics written up fully, to enter into correspondence with other schools; and when possible to give synopses of athletic events of interest taking place at these various schools.

What do you think of Clemson's all-Time Team? Maybe this aggregation couldn't go some. It would be interesting to see a game between this team, after a few weeks of practice and an all-Southern team, wouldn't it?

If there are two men on every hall in barracks, who have true college spirit, they can show lots of it, and do a great deal of good between now and commencement. It is at this season of the year that so much college property is broken up and the Athletic Association robbed of so much of the breakage fee money. Do you realize that the Athletic Association is about $1,200 in debt? This debt will almost be made good by breakage fees, if there is no further breakage. Let's remember this and be careful ourselves, and discourage needless breaking of dishes, tearing off of plastering and the like.

Maybe this faculty team can't go some, but they slightly mopped up with the seniors. And those who failed to see it missed a treat, too. It was great sport to see the old heads hit and run. The championship game between these teams will be played June, the seventh, the proceeds to go to the "drinking fountain." This is one thing Clemson needs, so let's everybody go out, and help the local U. D. C. see their aspirations fulfilled.

NEW STAFF TAKES CHARGE OF TIGER

The members of the staff of 1913 have finished their work. We have tried hard to make the Tiger a welcome visitor to the student body. If we have brought a little sunshine into the lives of the students, we are repaid for our work; and, if we have so far succeeded as to deserve the trust imposed in us when we were elected to the staff, we are more than repaid.

It is with some reluctance that we give the paper into other hands, for we found pleasure in the work; but we are glad to leave it in such capable hands. In doing so, we feel that the future of the Tiger is secure. The editor-in-chief-elect is a man who is thoroughly familiar with all forms of athletics; and will use the paper as a mighty agent for the good of Clemson along this line. His assistants are all able men; and will give him a loyal support.

We take this opportunity to thank the students for their hearty support and sympathy in our work. Especially do we feel indebted to Provost and Banks for the assistance they have given; for their work has composed the best part of the Tiger. We hope that the new men will receive a support as strong.

If the students at large will lend their assistance, the Tiger may become a mighty agent for the good of Clemson. The prospects are bright for a better paper than ever before. We wish the new staff every success; and hope that they will make a paper more worthy of our great college.

RECORD OF TIGERS' BASEBALL TEAM

While figures only furnish the mechanical working of a base ball team, never-the-less they are always interesting. In this instance they will aid the members of the corps, in determining just how much superior their team was to the others in the State Association.

Three factors have been instrumental in gaining the State honors, viz: a clever combination of hitting and base running, strong pitching by Capt. Ezell and recruit Anderson, together with that all important element—fighting spirit.

These qualifications off-set the general lack of experience, an essential part and point of advantage to any organization, and in no one thing more than in athletics. But experience could not be had when eight members of the team were playing their first year of varsity base ball. With nine men of this year's varsity squad eligible for at least two more years, prospects for after years are indeed bright. A glance at the following figures will show that in some instances we have doubled, tripled and in one case our total was nearly four fold that of the opponents.

SENIOR DANCE OF MAY 16

On Friday night, May 16th, the Senior Dancing Club held its last formal dance, which proved to be one of the most successful ever held at Clemson. From about eighty-three until nine o'clock, while the couples were arriving, informal dancing was indulged in. Shortly after nine o'clock, the line was formed for the Grand March, after which the regular order of dancing was followed. Before midnight, two beautiful German figures were danced, being led by the President of the Club, Mr. John H. Kangeter, and Miss Nade Westervelt, of Greenville. Iced tea was served during the dance, and at midnight light refreshments were served.

The hall was tastefully decorated in carmine and white, and a scenic border of Japanese gardens made a truly beautiful dance hall. Music for the occasion was furnished by the excellent Clemson Orchestra, and when the strains of "Home, Sweet Home" floated through the hall, another joyful dance passed into history at Clemson.

Many visitors were present from Greenville, Anderson, Spartanburg, and other cities, the following were among those who enjoyed the dancing:

Miss Nade Westervelt of Greenville with Cadet J. H. Kangeter.

OUR FOOT BALL OUTLOOK.

We are all looking forward to one of the most successful foot ball sessions that Clemson has had in a long time. With the prospects we now have, we should put out a team that will raise Clemson's standing in the S. I. A. A., and to some degree restore her prestige which has been lost in the last few years.

We are more fortunate this year than usual in that only four members of last years team will graduate. This has always been a great draw back here, because it is always our most experienced men who are lost in this way. Last fall about one half of the varsity squad was composed of men who had little or no experience, and of course this was detrimental to the best team work. All these men will have the benefit of one year's experience which should make them more valuable. These old men will form a nucleus around which the coaches should be able to build up a winning team.

Our scrub team last year was by far the best one we have had in several years. In every game they played, they showed up well in every way. We are expecting several of these men to give a good account of themselves when next year's varsity squad is picked.

All who saw the class games played on the campus this year, agree that they were the best that have been played here in several years. On each of the three teams several good men were developed. With all these back and fighting with the determination they showed in the class games, the coaches will have a bunch of excellent men to work with.

For Coach next year, we have a man with an excellent record. He is considered by all who know him to be one of the very best coaches in the South. Out of the old varsity men, the scrubs, and the class teams, we are expecting Coach Williams to develop a winning team.

But fellows, a coach and good men—though absolutely necessary—are not all it takes to make a winning team. They must have the loyal support of every member of the student body. The whole team must feel that every body in school is behind them, so lets come back here in September with the determination to help Clemson win. If every man in school—whether he plays football or not—will do his duty, we are sure to have a good team, and a most successful season.

"DOC" EZELL, FIRST PITCHER ON ALL-SOUTHERN TEAM.

In the all-southern line-up appears the name of "Doc" Ezell as first pitcher. According to Mr. Heisman, who is considered the foremost authority on southern college baseball, "Doc" as a pitcher is without an equal in the S. I. A. A. His headwork is good, forcing runners to hug the bases; his control is excellent, and his curves break better than any other pitcher under Heisman's observation. These qualities combined with his coolness and keen knowledge of all the various phases of the game gives him the title that he has earned and well deserves.

Three other Clemson men were given close consideration in Heisman's selection. These are Coles, Tarrant and Webb. All three were spoken of in a most creditable manner, and would in all probability land a place on a second line-up, were another selection made.

The bulk of our baseball material will be on hand next year. Those passing out with this season are Ezell, Coles, Hiers and Seal. "Doc," in the capacity of Captain served his fourth year in varsity ball this spring. Probably all are familiar with the fact that the big twirler has signed a contract with the Pittsburg Pirates, and will report there just after commencement.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE FOR 1913

Entire Corps Will See Five Games

The following games have been arranged for the football team next fall. This schedule seems to be an excellent one. It will be noticed that games are to be played with Davidson and the University of Alabama, in the place of those formerly played with Gordon and Howard. This gives Clemson a far better and more balanced schedule than she has had for the last few years:

October 4—Davidson University at Clemson College.

October 11—University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa.

This schedule gives us three games on campus. The corps will probably be in Columbia for the Clemson-Carolina game. Also it is hoped that a special train will be run to Atlanta on Thanksgiving. This makes a total of five games that the entire student body will see.

The schedule for the second team is not yet complete. A game has been arranged with Furman in Greenville for Thanksgiving. Most probably an agreement will be reached with the University of Georgia's Reserves in the near future. Other games are being looked for, and it is hoped that a full schedule for "Our scrubs" can be arranged.
